According to Bishop Tadeusz Pieronek John Paul II may be beatified next year, on anniversary day of his death. Decision of theologians from last week was the key to beatification. "The most important is that the Theological Commission agreed that Jan Paul II would be beatified very soon" – said Pieronek.

"We hope that catechist responsible for beatifications will agree for this idea, so John Paul II can be beatified next year" – added the Bishop.

According to commentators, decision of the Theological Commission was very important. It means that everything is on a good way.
