

Is Copenhagen a sham front for a new world order agenda?

---

Wednesday 9. Dec 2009

Written by Dennis Whitney

There might be deception now in play at the Copenhagen Climate Treaty. This podcast took place back on November 11th. and is truly shocking audio (The podcast will automatically launch when you click the link below). This was an interview with the UK's Lord Christopher Monckton, with Australian radio host, Alan Jones (bio here).

The revelatory bombshell stated by Lord Monckton, is the sudden self-seclusion of Australia's Prime Minister, Kevin Rudd (bio) It seems that this entire Copenhagen Treaty is nothing more than an absolute sham! Is this so surprising, considering the failures and inaction of the Kyoto Treaty of old? These climate treaties have gotten our world nowhere. In fact, things are even worse ecologically than they were since the Kyoto Treaty, and with endlessly and unfathomably more money going either down the drain, or to big business. So we agree on that? I thought so.

Well, it gets worse. This may be the Holy Grail of evidence for a New World Order! It seems, the wording within the treaty says a whole lot less about repairing the atmosphere from toxic levels of carbon pollution, and much more about the final protocols needed to to be instituted, to fulfill a World Government agenda. This has leaked out to the masses, Australia in particular, and they want answers from their PM! Can you blame them? This affects us all, and not just Australia, of course. So now the Prime Minister has gone silent. He hasn't got a single answer for such damning evidence. Essentially, the jig is up.

All of these public commencements on 'saving our economy' and 'saving the world from greenhouse gases' are all a pre-planned, deceptive sham. A plain and simple delusion placed on the public. So it's out there now. Copenhagen is a ruse for a private meeting to organize the final stages of a NWO. Kind of like the Bilderbergs? And with all of the great work and tenacity of guys like Alex Jones, who have relentlessly pursued and photographed members of the Bilderberg organization over the years, wherever they may try to hold their 'secret' meetings, this must've have been 'Plan B'.

So, rather than sneak around evermore, and getting caught by Jones and company anyway, why not just hold a publicly-stated conference, in plain sight, but resume the secret agenda once the doors close? Public will never be the wiser! Wrong. Plan B, now shot to hell.

If you won't awaken to something such as big as this, which is clearly not in the private sector's interest, what more can one do? They are plotting. They are deceitful. They are politicians. Copenhagen Climate Treaty, you say? Hardly.

There are huge amounts of cash to be controlled from the taxes imposed on carbon emitters. In Australia, the Labor Party has been keen to ensure that its mates, supporters, operatives like the admittedly dishonest Mike Kaiser who has been given a $450,000.00 a year job running a part of the $46,000,000,000.00 proposed National Broadband Network overseen by Labor's Senator Stephen Conroy.

The Australian opposition has refused to pass Labor's tax on carbon. Penny Wong, who ran Rudd's contribution to Copenhagen has left for the conference with nothing to offer up by way of a success.

http://www.australia.to/index.php?option=com\_content&view=article&id=17115:is-copenhagen-a-sham-front-for-a-new-world-order-agenda&catid=71:world-news&Itemid=301